

Community Composting Program

Urban Roots London is now accepting organic waste from our neighbours in the London community!

Help lower the amount of unnecessary waste ending up in landfills by bringing your food scraps, grounds and leaf litter to us.

We will weigh, record and process your scraps into compost to be used on our farm. Your contribution will put nutrients back into the ground. This means we'll be able to produce even more food for the community.

Where do I bring my scraps?

To our farm gate sales on Wednesday nights from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m.
Can't make it? We can arrange a time between Monday to Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

How long is the program running?

We are accepting scraps now and for the rest of the 2020 season!

How does it benefit me?

Your contributions will allow us to increase the amount of fresh, local produce we provide to the community.

Plus, you're encouraged to pick up more delicious veggies at our farm gate sales after dropping off your scraps!

Contact

Jacob Damstra
jacob@urbanrootslondon.ca
urbanrootslondon.ca

Urban Roots is located at 21 Norlan Ave., near the Hamilton and Highbury intersection.

What can I compost at Urban Roots?

Do's	Don'ts
Veggie/fruit scraps Shells Coffee grinds Leaf litter Grass clippings Straw/hay 	Meat Bones Dairy Rocks Sticks/branches Anything else! 